13	Presentation Sport Development Teodor Sheytanov (TS), EEF Sport Development Manager, presented the activities from the previous 12 months. This includes the Equestrian Sport Education Events (ESEE) which are organised with FEI Solidarity, the EEF Evolution League which provides international opportunities in Jumping and Dressage aimed at smaller nations, and the new EEF Academy aimed to provide training and education opportunities to develop officials. TS urged NFs to put officials forward for the officials' programmes and support the initiative to in turn help the development and potential promotion of officials. He highlighted the need to keep people in the sport, and secure the future through continuous growth and development of good officials. An outline of the number of NF FEI Solidarity projects was also provided alongside regional championships for Balkan and new Nordic-Baltic championships. An update on the support provided to Ukraine was also given.	QS
14	Presentation EEF Sustainability Strategy Ulf Bromster gave an introduction to the EEF approach to sustainability, and the importance for NF members to take action. Ruth Dancer (White Griffin) outlined the new EEF strategy and the core goals moving forward while outlining the work that has already been done. This is available online for all to reference back to. NED asked about whether there could be financial rewards or punishments to encourage action from members which engaged some discussion about the role of motivation and societal responsibility.	UB
15	Presentation Longines EEF Series	GD

	George Dimaras (GD) gave an overview of the 2023 season, the third season of the Series. The philosophy of the Series, to provide opportunities to young riders, horses and smaller nations to gain experience and grow the sport. The provisional calendar for 2024 was shared with 8 qualifiers, 2 semi-finals and the final set to return back to Warsaw. SUI: Offered thanks for this product, it's very important for horses and riders and federations. Asked for the position regarding the height 1.45 or 1.50m Nations cups. GD confirmed for now it would remain the same, to be as open as possible for all nations, but the EEF are open to continue discussing this to find the average for the level. DEN: could we redistribute bonus' to help young riders with entries or wild cards. GD explained wild card allocations are by the rules, but we can look and talk about ways to get more wild card invitations for U25 riders and the invitation and allocation of teams to events to help increase opportunities. ITA: Thanks from ITA federation for the concept and opportunity to jump, and the sponsors who support the Series.
16	Presentation "Equestrian Young Leaders Europe (EYLE)" TS presented the concept of the EYLE programme and the progress in the first year. Each of the three pilot countries are now in control of their national plan and starting to recruit and train coaches to begin rolling out the programme in early 2024. TS invites other interested countries to contact him to discuss the potential to expand EYLE. SWE: To provide proof our the results, both Henrik Ankarcrona (Jumping chef d'équipe) and Sandra Ruuda (SWE NF President) were both participants in the young leaders programme NED: In addition to the leadership skills, our young leaders have been shown to have better results in school too so its very overall beneficial	TS
